DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hoshino et al (JP 3-340774).

The claims are rejected as set forth in the previous Office Action, Paper No. 10.

2. Applicants' arguments have been considered but are deemed unpersuasive of patentability.

It is alleged that Hoshino et al does not show that the pigment includes 50-100% calcium carbonate. The fact is that the pigment of Hoshino, which is a mixture of organic pigment (hollow polymer particles) and inorganic pigment (calcium carbonate), contains hollow polymer particles in an amount of 3-30% of the pigment mixture, and therefore calcium carbonate is present in an amount of 97-70 % of the pigment. Applicants further imply from their argument that because portion of the particle size range in Hoshino lie outside the claimed range, Hoshino et al does not anticipate the claimed invention. The fact that the particles falling within the overlapping range in Hoshino et al anticipates the claimed invention.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
